Back and (feeling) bad

Posted by Bob Hunter

OK, if I were truly a dedicated blogger, I would have kept the blogs coming for the past several days. Got to work on that. What really happened: I spent two days trying to catch up from being gone for a week, and then spent two days home in bed, sick. But I'm back, and, upper respiratory issues notwithstanding, ready to blog again.

I'll keep it short: More video on our Web Multimedia site to check out — a couple of snow videos and a very cool piece on a local music group, AnnieMac. Things are changing here at the ol' Muddy Turbine, that's for sure.

We're still trying to figure out how much time to spend on things like video. The snow videos were not time-consuming, but the music piece was. A good use of our resources? We'll be sorting that out over time.
